Conflict Minerals

Dear Madame or Sir,

Based on our presently secured state of knowledge Pilz believes that currently our products are free of any hazardous or conflict substances.

Our purchasing department ensures that purchased material contains no conflict minerals.

The compliance with this requirement is confirmed through the whole supply chain according to the Pilz specifications. To ensure this we have different institutionalized processes.

The Pilz supplier portfolio includes only qualified and approved suppliers and manufacturers who meet our requirements. Our supplier questionnaire targeted queries for the use of non-conflict minerals. With regular requests to our suppliers we try to deliver the latest information.

Within our supplier audits and regular supplier visits, we will double check the statements for accuracy.

Furthermore, Pilz has established a process on "Hazardous Substances Management" system in cooperation with the Fraunhofer Institute Stuttgart.

With kind regards,

Ruben Conzelmann
